Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?	Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?
Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?	Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?
Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?	Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?
Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?	Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?
Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?	Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you? -Why do you think you had that reaction? -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family) -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences? -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?