

Breaking the Attendance Barrier:

The Power of Parent Teacher Home Visits

Irene Garibay Torres

Irene Garibay Torres has been with her school district for more than four years as a parent and educator. Irene started receiving home visits when her daughter was in kindergarten, and it has been life-changing for her! Irene is the Parent Facilitator for her district and has been doing trainings for over two years. She values the relationships that she has built with the community. As a parent, PTHV has inspired Irene to help teachers make connections with families. PTHV has increased her confidence and has connected her to her school district. It has pushed her to expand her education! She lives in Reno, NV with her daughter, Davina, and her spouse of over 11 years!
